Supports Solons Program

Would Place Them On State Employee Retirement Schedule Now Being Offered

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Sen. Edgar J. Keating (D) of Kansas City asked the Senate today to put legislators under a proposed state employee retirement program.

He urged defeat of a Senate committee amendment which would delete the so-called "pie in the sky" provision from the House approved measure.

The Senate recessed before action could be taken. No vote on the legislative pension proposal appeared likely until late today.

Under the retirement program, state employees could participate by contributing four per cent of their pay. Keating wants it to remain as it passed the House—with legislators having six years service eligible for a $75 a month pension at the age of 65. The legislators would have to pay nothing into the fund.

Earlier, the Senate adopted an amendment setting back the program's effective date from July 1, 1956, to Sept. 1, 1957.

The Senate passed and sent to the governor measures to:

Let St. Louis hold municipal elections on Tuesdays instead of Fridays.

Raise the salaries of assistant prosecuting attorneys of Jackson County.

Allow county jail prisoners to gain their release after serving three fourths of their sentences if they show good behavior, and allow the prisoners to work.

A bill revamping Missouri's 1947 utility anti-strike law powered through the Senate last night on a 26-5 vote.

The roll call sending it back to the House for action on Senate changes cut across party lines. It apparently represented a coalition of city senators, who normally vote for organized labor measures, plus a number from rural areas.

The bill softens up penalties which had drawn fire of organized labor since the bill was enacted. In particular, it would let a man quit work during a period of state seizure and not lose his seniority or other rights built up over a period of years.

At the same time it would set board to determine the facts before the governor ordered a utility seized to keep vital public services from being interrupted.

Opponents succeeded in removing a provision that would have permitted picketing of a seized plant. They said picketing would, in effect, permit a strike to continue despite state seizure.

Sen. Edgar J. Keating (D) of Kansas City, sponsoring the bill, finally agreed to the change. He said it wouldn't make any difference anyway because the Legislature can't interfere with the right of peaceful picketing.

Legion Postpones Officer Nominations Until Next Meeting

The Pettis County Post No. 16, American Legion held its regular meeting Monday night but nominations for officers was postponed and instead the nominations and election will be held at the next regular meeting to be held Monday June 6.

Plans were made for all members present at the meeting Monday to return at the next meeting accompanied by at least one other member to get a good representation at this election.

Fred Rose announced Post 16 would take care of placing the flags on graves at the Crown Hill Cemetery for Decoration Day. Members are to meet at the cemetery on Saturday to place the flags.

After the meeting refreshments were served.

Maybe He's Right

That extra rain never materialized, but the weatherman says there's still hope. He may be right, but the clouds seem pretty flimsy.

Council Okays Bond Payment Of $67,000

Repeal Theater Fee Of $500 and Raise Judges, Clerks Pay

By D. Kelly Scruton

The City Council Monday night approved the payment of $67,000 in bonds and $8,250 in interest, and ordered the bonds and interest coupons destroyed. There were 11 park improvement bonds at $1,000 each and 56 public sewer bonds at $1,000 each. The interest coupons at $10 each included 144 park improvement and 681 public sewer.

An ordinance which was introduced two weeks ago repealing the $500 a year license on theatres was given final passage, and all ordinances conflicting with the new ordinance were repealed. The theatre license fees to the city will remain at one cent per ticket.

The salaries of judges and clerks of elections in the city was raised to $10 per day. An ordinance was given final passage on this action and repealed all previous ordinances pertaining to the salaries of judges and clerks of a city election.

The annual tax levy ordinance was also passed, leaving the levy at the same it has been for the past several years. The levy is $1.50 per $100 valuation, and the recent bond issue on the repairing of the public library did not make it necessary to raise the levy any higher than it has been in the past, due to the reduction of the bonded indebtedness of the city over the past few years.

A breakdown on the levy calls for: general expenses .9780; Army bonds and interest .0036 and .0011; Hospital No. 2 bonds and interest .0037 and .0005; park improvements bonds and interest .0489 and .0012; public sewer bonds and interest .2409 and .0611; library .1000; firemen's pension .0500; a total of $1.50.

Other ordinances passed were for construction of a sewer in District No. 113 asking for bids; accepting the improvements, work done and materials furnished by the V. A. Siegel and Son Construction Co., for the sewer in District No. 105; curb and guttering on Osage from the north line of 19th to the south line of the MKT right-of-way; paving with a rock base four inches thick after compaction, prime and seal coating of Osage from 19th to the MKT right-of-way; letting the contract for construction of a sewer in District No. 108 to the V. A. Siegel and Son Construction Co.

Under reports of committees, Woodrow Garrison, chairman of the street and alley department, asked permission for the following expenditures: to purchase 200 gallons of white paint to be used for loading zones and cross walks; purchase of a paint stripping machine at a cost of approximately $500. The Council also approved a request for the department to advertise for bids on 5,000 tons of crushed rock to be used on city streets, the specifications to be obtained from the city engineer, bids to be opened at the next Council meeting.

Councilman Garrison also called attention to a request for a resolution for seal coating of Ohio, Third, and Main Streets, to preserve the present topping of these permanent streets.

Under the fire and water department, R. N. Snively, reported on an electric refrigerator box for Fire Station No. 2, and asked permission to purchase one. It was granted.

Dr. Ira White, of the police committee, asked permission to purchase a water cooler for drinking purposes at a cost of $155 and the purchase of another motorcycle for the traffic department of the police department. Both requests were approved.

Councilman Harry Moore, in the sanitation committee report, asked (Please turn to page 4, Column 6)

Pass Stricter Control Over Bangs Disease

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The House passed today and sent to the governor a stricter program for control and eradication of brucellosis (Bang's disease).

The animal disease attacks cattle primarily but human beings can catch it, too. In those cases it is called undulant fever.

House sponsors of the bill blocked all efforts to amend it today. They said any changes now would jeopardize its enactment in these final days of the session because it would have to go back to the Senate.

But others argued that the changes are needed to make the program a complete one for wiping out the disease in Missouri.

Three amendments were offered but defeated after long argument. Then the bill was passed 121-6.

Sponsors said it will take about $3 million in state money during the next two years to finance the program. The money is to be appropriated in a separate bill.

As it passed, the Bang's disease bill would:

Prevent the shipment of any cattle into Missouri unless they have been certified free of the disease.

Require immunization of young cattle and require that older animals, proved as having the disease must either be destroyed or isolated.

State and federal money could be used to help pay the loss on any diseased animal that must be destroyed.

Navy Explodes Atomic Device On West Coast

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department announced today the Navy has exploded a small atomic device under water off the West Coast of the United States.

The terse announcement said nothing about when or exactly where in the Pacific Ocean the world's second underwater nuclear explosion took place.

At Subcommittee Hearing--

Senators Accuse Air Force Of Wasting Project Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sens. Chavz (D-NM) and Robertson (D-Va) today accused the Air Force of wasting "millions of dollars" on its construction programs in England and Alaska.

The charges were raised at a Senate Appropriations subcommittee hearing as Air Force spokesmen began explaining requests for nearly 15 billion dollars. These Air Force funds already have been approved by the House.

The subcommittee is considering requests for more than 30 billion dollars from defense agencies.

Chavez, subcommittee chairman, said "We still have waste and inefficiency."

He said an example of this was a report to the committee that between 10 and 15 million dollars had been wasted on the Air Force construction program in the United

Truman Feted Upon Arrival At Jeff City

To Address Joint Session of State Legislature Today

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman arrived by plane today to speak before a joint session of the Missouri Legislature this afternoon.

He said he would talk about two of his favorite subjects—"peace and the welfare of the Democratic party."

He indicated the speech would not be long because "I don't think any souls are saved after the first 20 minutes."

The former president, now 70, looked trim in a grey spring suit as he stepped from the Air National Guard plane which brought him from Kansas City. With him was Kansas City Councilman Thomas J. Gavin, who held his proxy at the 1952 Democratic National Convention.

On hand to greet the former president at the airport were Gov. Phil M. Donnelly, Sen. Edward V. Long (D) of Clarksville, president pro tem of the Senate, Sen. Floyd R. Gibson (D) of Independence, who represents Truman's home district, Rep. Omer H. Avery (D) of Lincoln County, majority floor leader of the House, and other legislators.

House May Okay Military Issue For Big Reserve

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House today appeared ready to approve President Eisenhower's program designed to bring a fourfold increase in the nation's trained military reserve in 1960.

It scheduled debate starting today on a bill to carry out the program, which the President has described as a key part of his over-all plan to cut back the active military forces while placing increased reliance on air striking power and a ready pool of trained reserves.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the House Armed Services Committee has predicted passage without concerted opposition, although some attempts to revise the bill were anticipated. The Senate has not acted.

One feature of the bill would authorize a new six months' training program for a limited number of youths willing to accept long-term reserve duty. Some House members have denounced this plan as an entering wedge for universal military training, at which Congress has balked in the past, but Vinson contends "this is not a UMT plan and does not open the way for it."

Kingdom by "needless repetition of planning."

"Much greater sums have been wasted in trying to execute these imperfect plans," he added.

Sen. Robertson broke in to say he had been informed that the waste in Great Britain was only "a small part of what was lost in Alaska."

He said Air Force projects there cost "a hundred million dollars more than was contemplated."

Robertson said the annual "maintenance cost on these Alaskan projects is excessive" and that "fog and below zero temperatures made flying from there almost impossible."

Both he and Chavez said the Appropriations Committee wanted all facts before the Senate is asked to approve the huge bill, including Air Force funds.

Sales Tax Bill Gets To Floor

Aroused Committee Vive Chairman Sees It Through When Chairman Is Absent

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The idea of increasing the state sales tax to pay the freight on increased school aid reached the House floor today, revived into that position by an aroused committee.

The bill once was scheduled for hearings so late it had only a meager chance of enactment this waning session of the Legislature.

But when the committee chairman, Rep. Joseph M. Tanner (D) of Jackson County, left town another committee officer stepped in.

Rep. Roy D. Eddy (D) of Buchanan County, the vice-chairman, set the new hearing for yesterday, and the committee voted secretly, 7-4, to give the entire House a shot at the bill.

It would increase the sales tax from two to two and a half per cent, increasing the state's revenues an estimated $24 million a year.

Sponsors said it was a key part of increased aid for public schools, basically set up in the foundation program. The foundation plan already has been passed and is scheduled for voter approval or rejection next Oct. 4. The sales tax hike would meet a voter test at the same time.

But the sales tax plan got amendments approved during the committee debate that could jeopardize it. One would make the tax apply to bank drafts and certified checks. Sponsors said no amendments could be added this late in the legislative session.

With the Legislature planning to quit active bill work tomorrow or Thursday, the sponsors want to block any changes that might slow down the enactment process.

The committee used a seldom practiced procedure to assure secret balloting by committee members. Scraps of paper were passed around and the votes were secret.

Three Escape Serious Injury In Car Accident

Three persons escaped injury about 10:15 p.m. Monday on the Hughesville - Georgetown road seven miles northwest of Sedalia. Two vehicles involved were badly wrecked.

Avery Streeter, 44, Hughesville, was headed east on the black top road accompanied by his 12-year-old daughter, Patricia Lynn Streeter, and started to turn to the left into the road leading to his home, when the left rear fender of the car was caught by a 1953 Chevrolet sedan driven by Marion Earl Gregory, 18, Houstonia.

Streeter's car, a 1947 Studebaker sedan, was flipped into the ditch just east of the road turning into his farm. Streeter and his daughter crawled out of the overturned vehicle without a scratch.

The left front end of the Chevrolet was smashed in, doing several hundred dollars damage to it. The Studebaker was marked down as a total loss.

Trooper Earl Gregory of the State Highway Patrol investigated the accident.

Kansas Woman Asks For Any Information About John W. Hailey

The Sedalia police received a letter Tuesday from Mrs. S. R. Guthrie of Sedan, Kan., asking information regarding the whereabouts of her brother John W. Hailey, who was known to have been in Sedalia in 1952. Any information regarding the man can be turned over to the local police, who will forward it to his sister. Hailey is said to be about 75 years old and was said to have worked at the Pittsburgh-Corning glass plant here at one time.

She reported that in August, 1952, he had purchased an automobile and was to take a trip. Since then no word has been received from him by his sister.

The award was presented to Johnson by William C. Tucker, editor and publisher of the Star-Journal, at a banquet held at Warrensburg Friday night.

Johnson recently won first place in photography in the Missouri College Newspapers Association with a picture which he photographed and published on the front page of The Student's Christmas edition. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl M. Johnson, 242 South Stewart.

Johnson graduated from Smith-Cotton High School in 1948, enlisting in the U. S. Navy that summer for four years.

While in the Navy he served as an aerial photographer and camera repairman. He received his honorable discharge in 1952.

In the fall of '52 Johnson entered C. M. S. C. at Warrensburg, where he is presently a junior and is majoring in General Business. Ron is a member of the Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity and was president of TKE's in 1954.

Sees No Delay In Passing Bill For Vaccine Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hill (D-Ala) said today there is "absolutely no question" but that Congress would quickly approve President Eisenhower's request for 28 million dollars to pay for antipolio vaccine for children whose parents can't afford the shots.

Hill, chairman of the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee, said in an interview he expects Eisenhower's companion request for two million dollars for more inspectors to police vaccine output to go through as soon as Congress can get around to considering the matter.

Otherwise, Hill voiced reservations about the administration's new 11-point program for voluntary allocations and controls over distribution of the Salk polio vaccine. Secretary of Welfare Hobby outlined that program to the committee yesterday after it had been approved by the President.

Hill said the program "very clearly" was not "detailed or definite."

Bulganin Reports New Plan to Boost Industrial Output

Will Split Present Commission Into Two Groups; One to Lead Current Work, One for Future

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikolai Bulganin has announced changes in state planning designed to increase Soviet industrial production.

He said the Council of Ministers had decided to split the present State Planning Commission into two groups — a commission devoted to plans for future development and another to direct current industrial planning.

(The decision appeared to imply criticism of the State Planning Commission headed by Deputy Premier Maxim Saburov, a protégé of former Premier Georgi Malenkov. The announcement thus might be another indication of the slipping prestige of the deposed Malenkov, who now is a vice premier and head of the Power Stations Ministry.)

Bulganin also told a Kremlin conference on Soviet labor productivity that the ministers had approved creation of a committee on introduction of new techniques which will direct and coordinate the work of ministries in that field.

The Premier's speech to the conference containing these announcements was made yesterday and Pravda published excerpts from the speech today.

The new commissions will operate directly under the Council of Ministers, Bulganin said.

He called on the conference delegates — politicians, Communist party leaders, shock workers and scientists — to "concentrate their main attention on the following questions which, in the opinion of the central committee of the Communist party and the Council of Ministers, are especially important:

"1. Perfection of technology and organization of production for a

SAFB Included In Air Force Appropriations

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP) — The House Armed Services Committee Monday approved, almost in its entirety, the Air Force's $703,390,000 domestic construction program for the next fiscal year.

Except for three projects, a committee aide said, all work proposed by the Air Force in the United States was approved for authorization only—appropriations will have to be made in separate, later legislation.

In some cases, he said, the committee authorized a bit more or less than the Air Force sought. These minor changes were made necessary by revisions in costs and designs, he explained.

Here are the approximate authorizations approved for Air Force construction in Kansas and Missouri:

Kansas—Forbes AFB, Topeka $4,753,000; McConnell AFB, Wichita $269,000; Smoky Hill AFB, Salina housing $3,332,500, $8,773,500.

Missouri — Grandview AFB, Kansas City housing $1,350,000, $3,402,000; Sedalia AFB, Knob Noster housing $4,400,000, $8,996,000; St. Louis Aeronaautical Chart Information Center, St. Louis $861,000.

Oklahoma City Firm Apparent Low Bidder On SAFB Construction

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Bids for construction of facilities at the Sedalia Air Force Base were opened today by the Corps of Engineers.

Col. John T. Poffenberger, executive officer at the corps office here, said the parent low bidder at $234,131 was the Secor Building Co., Oklahoma City.

The work consists of building approximately 11,000 square yards of 17-inch concrete pavement with access taxiway, construction of an aircraft wash rack with taxiway and of a small building to house chemicals. The project also includes the providing of standby power facilities. The project must be completed in 180 days after the contract is elt.

"3. Strengthening of state discipline and as a task of the nearest future fulfillment and overfulfillment of the year's state plan, the last year of the five-year plan, by every plant in all respects.

"4. Curtailment and lowering the costs of management and administration of industry."

Communist party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev and other leaders repeatedly have criticized the low output per man in Soviet industry and the many instances of inefficient use of industrial equipment.

Owen Roberts, Ex-Associate Justice, Dies

Frequently Cast Deciding Vote In Supreme Court Case

PHENIXVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Owen J. Roberts, retired former associate justice of the U. S. Supreme Court, died today at his home. He was 80 last May 2, and had retired from the bench in 1945.

While a Supreme Court justice, Roberts held a decidedly unusual position and it was frequently his vote that decided a case between the evenly divided viewpoints of his eight colleagues.

When he was named an associate justice the court was divided, unofficially between conservatives Justices Van Devanter, McReynolds, Sutherland and Butler—and liberals—Holmes, Brandeis, Stone and Chief Justice Hughes.

Roberts' importance was spotlighted because the Supreme Court was called upon to decide the constitutionality of President Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal legislation in 27 instances.

He voted against all except two of the 13 New Deal measures which the court passed upon prior to October, 1936, but during Roosevelt's second term as President aligned himself with the liberals 14 times.

Roberts cast the deciding vote that ruled the Agriculture Adjustment Administration unconstitutional. And he also cast the deciding vote to uphold the constitutionality of the Wagner Labor Relations Act and the unemployment compensation provisions of the Social Security Act. Liberals called him a conservative; conservatives called him a liberal.

Roberts' friends insisted that the justice was merely interpreting the law as he knew it, but others claimed that Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes had effected the change in Roberts' views.

In his latter years on the bench he became known as the court's leading dissenter, showing increasing disagreement with the majority of the court which was dominated by liberals appointed by Roosevelt.

Roberts gained national prominence again immediately after the Japanese sneak attack on Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941 when Roosevelt named him chairman of a five-man commission to fix responsibility for lack of American alertness on Honolulu.

The Pearl Harbor report resulted in congressional demands for a unified Army and Navy command.

A Philadelphia lawyer, born in the Germantown section of the Quaker City, Roberts came into national prominence when he was named by President Calvin Coolidge in 1924 as one of the prosecutors of the Teapot Dome oil scandals.

Before that he taught law at the University of Pennsylvania, his alma mater, served as an assistant district attorney of Philadelphia, and a special U. S. attorney general in 1918 to prosecute cases in the Philadelphia district growing out of violations of the espionage law.

You can make it plenty cool in the Hottest-Selling Buick in History

How would you like to drive in movie-house coolness—stay fresh and unwilted no matter what the outside temperature reaches?

That's what you do when you boss a beauty like this one—and dial the cooling comfort you want with Buick's Airconditioner.

Cooled, filtered outside air comes flooding into the car's interior. In a matter of minutes, it's cooled down to the temperature you want—even though the car has been standing under the summer sun for hours.

And it stays cool, even in slow-moving traffic on a hot and breezeless day when the outside air seems to be almost at oven heat.

But that's not all.

Inside air, no matter how smoke-filled it may be, is continually replenished by the Airconditioner with a fresh supply of filtered outside air—and that's pure bliss.

Even when cooling is not needed, Buick's Airconditioner is a blessing and a joy. It lets you ride in clean and quiet comfort with windows closed on dusty, windy and rainy days. It's a year-round boon—and well worth its first and only cost.

So why not look into this marvel—and especially into the car it goes with?

For this year's Buick is the most phenomenally successful Buick of all time.

Styled to daring new boldness, powered to new record levels, sparked to spectacular performance by the whip-quick getaway and bettered gas mileage of Variable Pitch Dynaflo—Buick today is soaring in sales as never before—moving more firmly than ever into the tight circle of America's best sellers.

Come see us this week and we'll quote you prices that are making nobody but our competition hot under the collar.

*Optional at extra cost on all 4-Door Sedans and Riviera Models.
†Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Give Party Honoring Miss Anna Elliott, A Retiring Teacher

Miss Anna Elliott, who is retiring as a teacher and returning to her home town of Clarksburg to reside, was honored with a party given by members of the Wesleyan Service Guild and the Merripathy Sunday School Class of the Fifth Street Methodist Church.

The party was given at the home of Miss Ruth Burford, also a teacher, who invited Miss Elliott to her home to spend a quiet evening, telling her she would be by for her about a quarter to eight.

When they went in the home 22 members of the two organizations to which Miss Elliott belongs, came out of a bedroom yelling "Surprise."

It was a surprise, too. Miss Elliott had not suspected a thing and she was pleased to see her friends had gathered for a party for her.

Each person was then presented with a corsage. The evening was spent in conversation, picture taking and other entertainment. Then the guest of honor was given two gifts from the groups, one a 10x12 picture of Jesus knocking at the door and the book, "A Man Called Peter."

Knowing that Miss Elliott loves flowers and has a friendship garden each person had a package of flower seed, a bulb or a plant for her garden.

Our Flag And Friendliness...

A series of national holidays approach. They invite the public to display the flag of the United States of America. This observance of respect and patriotism is encouraged by veterans' organizations throughout the land.

Armed Services day—which will be observed locally Saturday May 21—offers an occasion for flag display which would not be amiss. The Sedalia Air Force base is putting forth considerable effort to extend hospitality to Central Missourians with a program of unusual merit. Many of the air base personnel and their families live in Sedalia and surrounding towns. Why not take a few minutes to put the flag on display as a gesture of appreciation to the men in uniform as well as to the nation they are prepared to defend?

Along with the flag display how about a display of neighborliness to the SAFB and their families? Sometimes there is a tendency to become a bit rusty on Sedalia hospitality and we don't want that ever to happen to a Sedalia trademark of the people of this community. Friendly people are the salt of the earth who do not require worldly goods to generate an attitude to strangers which is the very seed and essence of what the armed services desire the world to have—Peace. The characteristic of friendliness and peace begins at the grass roots.

So on Armed Services Day, Memorial Day, May 30, Flag Day June 14, Independence Day, July 4, and all the other National holidays display the flag and extend the hand of fellowship not only to men in uniform but to your civilian neighbor.

Never let it occur in the prairie lands of Central Missouri that indifference and sour dispositions have sickened the good people of this area, which is the heart of America.

What to Do About Colleges That're Hardup

The Council for Financial Aid to Education, a non-profit business organization established by leading businessmen to encourage greater financial support for colleges and universities, found that one-half of such institutions in their country are operating "in the red."

Among the nation's largest industrial concerns, more than 350 are contributing substantial grants to higher education. But the average cost per student has gone up 50 per cent since 1948. Some of this increase has been met by increased tuition fees, but that is just a drop in the bucket.

One solution, which might help, would be that after such a study, some colleges might merge with others in the same area, thereby saving maintenance of buildings, faculty and help. Because of high overhead costs, many business and industrial firms are having to merge, such as banks, newspapers, and department stores. The large consolidated schools were found to be an improvement and in many cases an economy in rural areas over the one room district school. Why not consolidate colleges? A few traditions might have to be sacrificed, but if the colleges could be put on a sound financial basis, they might be better colleges.

Spreading the services of state universities might be another solution. That would involve considerable traveling for some of the professors, but classes could be held in public buildings and in the grade schools after school was dismissed. This plan would be rough on the "Joe College" type of student, and "belle of the campus," but might be much easier for the student who really wanted an education. It would certainly be cheaper for the institution.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round-- President Ike Is Irritated By Mrs. Hobby

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The President has been irked, and irked plenty over the handling of the Salk vaccine inoculations. He hasn't shown his displeasure publicly, but he has shown it privately to the lady in charge — Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare Oveta Culp Hobby.

White House intimates tell Mrs. Hobby was called over to see the President last week to brief him on what was happening in the Salk polio imbroglio and how she gave him a rather superficial briefing.

It was the kind of briefing that a cabinet officer gives to the press when he or she doesn't want to say too much, and it failed to satisfy the President. He told Mrs. Hobby so.

Mrs. Hobby then did what no sergeant does to a general. She argued back. This got the President really sore.

The incident took place just prior to the photos taken by cameramen of Mrs. Hobby and the President, following which newsmen were barred from future picture-taking shots.

The President and his secretary of health had cooled down and showed no irritation when cameramen entered. But when he made a remark about being glad his grandchildren had received the shots, it was quoted by newsmen. Press Secretary Hagerty then barred them from future photographing sessions — though later reversed.

Negro Reports to Ike

Congressman Adam Clayton Powell of Harlem, N. Y., one of the three Negroes in the House of Representatives, got the runaround when he first tried to see Eisenhower following his return from the Bandung Conference. But when the President learned about the runaround from a news item in the Washington Post, he sent a messenger to Powell's office and invited him to the White House.

The conference that followed was scheduled to last 15 minutes but continued for 35.

"I am in somewhat of a dilemma about the problem of colonialism," the President remarked. "Of course, I am against it, whether it is practiced by the Communists or by our friends. On the other hand, it is difficult to turn against an old ally like France, which has fought and died with our own soldiers from Revolutionary days, especially when France is fighting another type of colonialism, the Communist brand, in Indo-China."

At Eisenhower's request Powell promised to prepare a memorandum on the "colonialism" question, setting forth his views for the White House and State Department. Powell, a Democrat, is now

Guest Editorial--

COLUMBIA (Mo.) TRIBUNE: Missouri, the state which gave General John J. Pershing and his great talents of military leadership to the nation, swelled a little more with justified pride as President Eisenhower named General Maxwell Taylor to become army chief of staff, succeeding General Matthew Ridgeway. For General Taylor is not only a Missourian, but he is the second Missourian to occupy the high army post since World War II. The other, of course, was General Omar N. Bradley.

Both of these military leaders are products of Central Missouri. General Bradley was born at Clark, in Randolph County, lived at Moberly and wed in Columbia. General Taylor was born in Keytesville, county seat of Chariton County, which adjoins Randolph. Both are recipients of honorary degrees from the top educational institution of their home state, the University of Missouri.

General Taylor takes to the office of chief of staff not only superbly demonstrated abilities as a tactician and a diplomat, but also a record of personal courage which might well be the envy of any man. His secret mission to Rome while the Italian capital was Fascist held, and his parachuting into a German-surrounded pocket of his men later in the war rank with the greatest demonstrations of bravery in American military annals. Of his feat in Italy, President Eisenhower, in his book, "Crusade in Europe," wrote:

"The risks he (General Taylor) ran were greater than I asked any other agent or emissary to undertake during the war — he carried weighty responsibilities and discharged them with unerring judgment, and every minute was in imminent danger of discovery and death."

Missouri can truly be proud of its contributions to the nation's military history.

Guilt By Relationship Idea Seems Embraced By Leaders

By Joseph A. Dear
Democrat-Capital
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Apparently many administrators of the national loyalty — security program have embraced the theory of guilt by relationship.

The latest illustration of how this theory works is offered by Congressman Don Magnuson (D-Wash.). He says the Army has threatened to discharge dishonorably a 22-year-old veteran whose father, according to anonymous accusers, is a Communist.

The Army has informed the veteran, Walter Kulich, that he gets the boot unless he can disprove the charges against his father, Magnuson said. The Congressman said the veteran was "bewildered" by the charge, "knows of nothing to support it, and has his father's word that it is not true."

But even if it were true why should the young veteran be denied the opportunity to serve his country? No one has questioned his loyalty, and it smacks of the taint of punishment for the alleged misconduct of a close relative.

We Americans should know that loyalty to country can transcend kinship. Our national experience proves it. How else could the nation have endured a civil war, which did indeed split families?

One of the very best Union Generals — George Thomas — was a Virginian. One of the best Union naval commanders — David Farragut — came from Tennessee. Both of course had living relatives in the South. And if the present security program had been in force during the Civil War, the Union would have lost the services of both.

Even more dramatic was the split of Robert J. Breckinridge, a leader of the Union. Two of his sons served in the Confederate Army, two in the Union. At the battle of Atlanta there was a family reunion of sorts when a Union Breckinridge captured his brother, a Confederate Breckinridge.

The Kulich case is not unique. The same sort of reasoning led to the temporary suspension of a reserve officer in the Air Force. Officials were suspicious of his sister's activities. The Agriculture Department sacked its attaché to the U.S. Embassy in Tokyo, Wolf Ladejnsky, because he has a couple of sisters in Russia.

It can be argued, and it is ar-

Looking Backward ...

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Peter B. Stratton, formerly editor of The Sedalia Democrat, several years since residing at Berryville, Ark., was moving to this county to reside on a farm near Houstonia.

1930. The Rev. A. W. Kokendoffer, pastor of the First Christian Church, delivered the commencement address Thursday night, May 16, to graduates of Lincoln High School.

1930. Stanley Shaw, director of the Sedalia Boys' Band, was at Mt. Sterling, Ia., visiting relatives.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Joseph B. Walsh, chief dispatcher for the MKT, serving the past few months as trainmaster for that road at Oklahoma City, returned and resumed his regular position.

1915. Judge Louis Hoffman was making a visit at Liberty, Mo., with his daughter, Mrs. W. H. Goodson, and Mr. Goodson.

1915. T. W. Alton, prosecuting attorney of Benton County, was in the city on legal matters.

1915. The Rev. E. A. Brown, pastor of Wesley Chapel, one mile west of Pilot Grove, while in Sedalia purchased a cow and, walking, led the animal back to his home, a distance of 23 miles. The trip was made in about nine hours.

gued, that officials should be on their guard if it develops that a government employee is related to a suspected Communist. That may be, but certainly the relationship should be balanced against other factors. Sensible administrators would consider the relationship decisive only under the most extraordinary considerations.

Thus during World War II Price Administrator boss Leon Henderson received a letter from J. Edgar Hoover stating that Henry Reuss, an OPA attorney, had a sister in Germany. Hoover wrote that he sent the information so Henderson could take "appropriate action."

Henderson summoned Reuss to his office and asked him to read the letter. Reuss did. According to Reuss, Henderson then took "appropriate action" by crumpling the letter and dropping it in the waste. Also, Reuss recalls, "this act was accompanied by an appropriate four letter Anglo-Saxon word."

Reuss went on to serve his country ably in the armed forces, and last fall was elected to Congress by Milwaukee Democrats.

What They Say--

John F. Blumh, Sr. (Smithton) Is our House upon it's Foundation? — This is the question that many are asking today. This may begin in our own life in State or National affairs. Have we departed from the firm foundation of our Constitution, our beloved Nation? Have we lost some of our freedom of rights which our Constitution gave to us? This freedom has caused many of us farmers much alarm as we see it being taken away almost daily with our allotment and restricted acreage both in wheat and corn. The question arises what crops will we plant on the remaining acres that will pay at least a small profit? We believe the successful farmer who has worked and paid for his farm should have the right to plant and harvest the crops that he thinks is best suitable to his own farm and that which may make a profit for his labor and investment. We think it is a gross insult to have men with no experience at all tell successful farmers how and what he can plant on his own farm. Ben Benson knows that these restrictions will not solve our farm problem. With the large investments that a present day farmer has to make in farm machinery he must have volume in acres to make at least some profit. With a small acreage his investment is the same.

Consider our own experience on our farm which consists of more than 500 acres. In the year 1954 we were allotted 24 acres of wheat and we planted 95 acres of corn. That year we sowed 3 acres more than our allotted amount as we wanted to sow an entire field in one crop to be seeded into clover to be used as hay crop as nearly all hay crops were destroyed by drought in 1954. We were required to pay a penalty of $45.92 before we could get a marketing card that would permit us to sell wheat. Is not our house off of it's foundation? For the year 1955 we were allotted 19 acres for wheat and 42 acres for corn. How long can farmers continue to operate under these controls? We have not taken a refund farm check from government for several years, why then tell us what we must do?

We can look back several years ago when livestock were slaughtered and crops destroyed. We need not say what followed as most people remember. We believe we are being warned through the last years of drought and insects that we had better get our house on it's foundation.

We have told at least in part the situation of farmers at the present day and we know that most other industries have also their problems. There is but one answer to the condition of our world as it is today. 11 Chronicles 7:14: "If my people that are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sins, and will heal their land." If this warning is not heeded then: Proverbs 20:1 "He, that being often reproved hardeneth his neck, shall suddenly be destroyed, and that without remedy."

DEATH OF A LEGEND

By WILL HENRY

XXXII
WHAT Glispin's men found in that Watonwan River thicket, as well as a priceless, last glimpse of Cole Younger at his grinning best, was supplied within the following minutes.

Inside the grapevine fortress Charlie Pitts lay dead, five bullets having done the job that several hundred had failed to do at Northfield. Bob Younger had a fresh, deep chest wound, in addition to the shattered wrist and right elbow sustained in the First National Bank ambush. Jim Younger, like Pitts, was carrying five rifle slugs, the last one of which had smashed his jaw and the whole lower half of his face into a shapeless pulp. Cole, the only one of the four still conscious, was bleeding from 11 separate wounds, at least six of which he had received within the past 10 minutes.

In the words of an emotional James Younger historian, "Thomas Coleman Younger, who looked like a bishop and fought like a Bengal tiger lay upon the ground soaked with the rainfall and with his own blood—and smiled as he saw approaching him Colonel Vaughn, proprietor of the Flander's House hotel in Madelia, where Cole and his brothers had stayed overnight previous to the Northfield Raid."

Rearing himself up on his left elbow, Cole managed to sweep off his black hat with his mangled right hand. And managed, somehow, to do it with a flourish to match the white-faced smile that came with it.

"Good morning, landlord," grinned the big outlaw. "You'll excuse me for not getting up, but I've taken on quite a bit of weight since last we met, and do not feel so well."

Under Minnesota law of the day, a confessed murderer could not be hanged. Cole, Jim and Bob, in turn, pleaded guilty to the principal charge: accessory to the murder of J. L. Heywood, cashier of the First National Bank of Northfield. Judge Samuel Lord sentenced them all to life imprisonment in the state penitentiary at Stillwater.

The best farewell of the Youngers was spoken outside the walls of the Stillwater Prison, as they all stood before its waiting gate breathing deep of the last freedom's air and gazing, far-eyed, across the heads of the small crowd which had gathered to see them admitted.

A Madelia lady, one of those who had nursed Cole through the hours of suffering at the Flander's House, broke forward impulsively in the final moment to tell him how glad and grateful she was that the brothers had fallen into her town's Christian hands and that they had all been so well taken care of.

Cole, his handsome face withdrawn from the weeks of courtroom testimony and the unhealed torture of his wounds, still had one smile left. "I am grateful, too, ma'am," he said. "But I can't say that we deserve it. Circumstances, ma'am, sometimes make men what they are. If it had not been for the war, I might have been something. As it is, I am only what I am."

And then, this wonderful valet-dictory from Bob: "We are rough men, ma'am, and are used to rough ways."

THOUGH it was to be delayed across a span of five sinister years, Jesse's end came as certainly as had Cole's—with a poesy of justice, no older minstrel ever sang truer words than these:

The dirty little coward
Who shot Mr. Howard,
Has laid poor Jesse in his grave.

It is known that some time in the month following the Northfield raid Jesse and his Bible-quoting brother passed through

Missouri. In the passing they collected their wives and children, their entire combined families leaving the home state "in the dead of the night and in a single, rickety covered wagon driven from Kansas City by their stepbrother, John Samuel."

Tradition has Jesse hiding in the wagon with the women and children while Frank outrode the perilous journey by saddlehorse. No man from Missouri likes to question his homeland's native legends. But it takes a little faith in local lore, together with a lot of innocence of Jesse's inherent wolfishness of character, to picture him cowering in a wagonful of women and children.

It is a safe assumption that where Frank's horse stepped during that night, no matter how warily or far in the lead, he was stepping in the tracks of Jesse's black.

THE files of the Pinkertons today disclose the amazing geography of that three-year heira which began that dark night in Kansas City. During its wide-ranging course, Frank and Jesse, all-ways with their wives and children now, lived successively in Kentucky, Tennessee, California, Texas and Missouri. Jesse consistently used the name of Howard; Frank, the family surname of Woodson. So complete was Jesse's peculiarly faceless anonymity that at one point in the Pinkertons' unremitting pursuit of him "he entered and rode his own horse in the Nashville Races, with the fair grounds alive with Pinkerton detectives and local law officers."

For all his crimes and the worldwide notoriety they had brought him, he was still a man without a face to his relentless trackers. The only picture ever made of him remained the one which "hung in the lock" around his poor mother's neck.

It is not entirely beside the point, for one who would recall that he not only entered and rode his own famous black in the Nashville Derby—he won it!

The World Today-- Mrs. Hobby Lacked Foresight

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby lacked foresight on the public desire for antipolio vaccine. And her Department of Health Education and Welfare guessed wrong on the supply of it.

Mrs. Hobby, explaining why her department made no plans far ahead, says, "I believe no one could have foreseen the public demand" for it. She says now the shortage is "tremendous."

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, a private organization, planned months ahead for getting vaccine to nine million first and second-grade children, considered most susceptible to polio, once a nationwide test proved it effective.

It contracted with six manufacturers to make enough vaccine for that number. The manufacturers began work last November. It takes 90 days to turn out a batch of vaccine.

But there are 55 million children age 1 through 19, who are more susceptible to polio than adults. This meant the 46 million not in the first and second grades would have to wait. In other words: there would be a shortage for many months.

Mrs. Hobby's department could have started planning distribution last fall when the foundation placed its orders for vaccine or any time between last fall and April 12, when test results were announced.

Yesterday Sen. Lehman (D-N.Y.), at a hearing before the Senate's Labor and Public Welfare Committee, asked Mrs. Hobby why planning hadn't been done ahead of time. It was then she conceded she didn't foresee the public demand.

Yesterday, Mrs. Hobby made consultations with medical and citizen groups. She asked voluntary channelling among state governments and doctors, with the government putting up 23 million dollars to buy vaccine for those who couldn't afford it.

On April 12 her department said that by Aug. 1 every child in the nation between 1 and 9 could be inoculated against polio. Yesterday Chester Keefer said the foundation has ordered 18 million cubic centimeters of vaccine for those first and second-graders and so far has received a little over seven million. That means the manufacturers still have to supply it with 11 million cubic centimeters.

Keefer said it may be mid-August before the foundation's order is filled. This means those above and below the first and second grades won't get shots before then.

And Dr. Leonard Scheele, surgeon general of the U. S. Public Health Service, part of Mrs. Hobby's department, said he doesn't think the manufacturers can go into large-scale production before next fall or winter.

So, he said, he couldn't predict what the supply will be at the peak of the polio season, which comes between mid-August and mid-September.

"WHEW!" said the man going into his office. "There must have been a bunch of women in here—this office smells of perfume until I can't breathe."

Well, everyone seems to be allergic to something and he is allergic to a certain kind of floral fragrance—he just doesn't know what kind, but it gives him asthma.

One day he was walking along with a group of men back of the Country Club of his home town before he came to Sedalia to live and suddenly from the club house came a terrific wave of that perfume. Right out in the open air he began to gasp for breath and he folded up until the men with him put him in a car and took him to the hospital. He stayed in the hospital for another day, too, trying to recover from his perfume asthma.

Some men brag that they pick out their wives clothes but this man insists on picking out his wife's face powder and perfume. She can shop for anything else by herself and he doesn't mind what she buys but when it comes to face powder and perfume he wants to be along to smell it and see that it doesn't give him asthma.—H.L.

Boy Charged With Slaying U.S. Employee

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP) — The 21-year-old son of a husband-wife team on the Harvard University faculty has been ordered held without bond on a murder charge in a shooting which he contends was an accident.

Richard Kluckhohn was bound over yesterday for trial in Wake Superior Court. The next term starts June 6. His parents and fiancée attended a preliminary hearing, at which Raleigh City Court Judge Albert Doub ruled there was probable cause to carry the case to Superior Court.

Kluckhohn, described by police as a brilliant student who graduated at the University of Chicago when he was 18, is accused in the bizarre Friday-the-13th shooting of Miss Bernice Seawell, 43, a government worker of Arlington, Va.

Miss Seawell and a sister were standing at a downtown parking lot when a bullet struck and killed Miss Seawell. Police said the shot, fired from a German Luger pistol, came from the window of a nearby hotel.

Kluckhohn, a traveling representative of the Row Peterson Publishing Co., Evanston, Ill., was arrested 3½ hours later in Chapel Hill, some 30 miles distant, by Chapel Hill Patrolman G. R. Creel.

Creel quoted Kluckhohn as saying he was "dry firing" the pistol in his hotel room when it discharged.

Under cross-examination, Creel agreed that Kluckhohn said "he was testing the gun and did not know it was loaded."

Dr. and Mrs. Clyde Kay Maben Kluckhohn sat near their son during the hearing. Also nearby was blonde Ellen Waldron, 21, of Chicago, his fiancée. They had planned to marry in June.

The husky, rotund youth told reporters after the hearing, "I can only say it was an awful, dreadful accident, one which I was not even cognizant of until some time later."

School Train In Japan Hits Stalled Truck

TOKYO (AP) — A special train carrying 1,400 school children slammed into a stalled U.S. Marine truck and trailer loaded with inflammable paint today. The train jumped the rails and burst into flames.

Police said two were injured seriously and at least 31 others were hurt. Scores of sleeping students were shaken up.

In another accident, on Kyushu, Japan's southernmost island, a bus loaded with 54 primary school children caught fire today and 37 youngsters were burned in the blaze. Police said several may die.

The train plowed into the huge Marine truck and 25-ton trailer near the slopes of Mt. Fuji. The trailer was stalled on the tracks while trying to negotiate a tricky S-turn.

Marines tried frantically to signal the train, but the engineer did not see them in time.

The accidents followed on the heels of last Wednesday's inland sea sinking of a big ocean ferry boat with the loss of 158 lives, most of them youngsters on sightseeing trips. Saturday a bus tumbled down an embankment into a river and 12 other youngsters were killed and several injured.

The Education Ministry moved quickly to investigate the series of accidents.

NEW YORK (AP) — A 24-year-old man, released after 10 years in a hospital for the criminal insane, has been found guilty of first-degree murder in the butcher knife slaying of his 2-year-old brother a decade ago.

A Bronx County jury deliberated two hours yesterday before returning the verdict against William Oliver Jr. The jury made no recommendations of mercy. A first-degree murder conviction carries a mandatory death sentence.

Oliver admitted he killed his little brother as the child slept, and then set fire to the bed. He

Rocky Chops Down Cocky Don Cockell

Britisher Claims 'Raw Deal' After Bout; Manager Smooths Charges, Says Marciano Landed Low Blows

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—It took a lot of chopping to cut down Don Cockell, the sturdy oak of England, but whack him down he did, and today America's Rocky Marciano remains the boss of the world heavyweight fighters.

Fifty-four seconds after the ninth round began, the power-punching Marciano disposed of the gallant but battered and beaten challenger.

Referee Frankie Brown stopped the scheduled 15-round, awarding Marciano a technical knock-

Investigation Continues In Johnson Fight

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Pennsylvania Athletic Commission probe of state boxing was in recess today following yesterday's session in which the commission charged Harold Johnson, number one light heavyweight contender, match maker Pete Moran and three of Johnson's handlers covered up a "fake" boxing match.

The commission alleged that Johnson, Moran, trainers Clarence Davidson and Joe Rowland, and Lou Gross, a second, knew that Johnson wasn't well enough to fight Julio Mederos May 6, but let the match go on without notifying authorities.

The commission's "indictment" of Johnson and the other four principals charged that the fighter, Moran and the three handlers were guilty of covering up a "sham, fake or collusive boxing match." Commission member Alfred Klein said the commission had the evidence to back up that charge and would produce it at later sessions.

Johnson collapsed after the second round of the nationally televised fight and was carried from the ring on a stretcher. Subsequent examination by physicians and a police investigation disclosed Johnson had been drugged. Gov. George M. Leader banned boxing in Pennsylvania for 90 days and ordered a thorough investigation.

The commission also indicted Moran for allegedly owning a piece of Johnson, a violation of state regulations which forbid a matchmaker to have a financial interest in a boxer. Moran is matchmaker for Herman Taylor who promoted the Mederos-Johnson fight.

M. U. Drops Kansas In Three Sports

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—The University of Missouri's golf, tennis and baseball teams defeated Kansas yesterday.

In dual meets here, the Tiger tennis team won 5-2 and the golf squad eked out a 6 1/2-5 1/2 victory. At Lawrence, Kan., the baseball team easily downed the Jayhawks, 11-2.

It was the sixth league victory in nine starts for Missouri. The Jayhawks get another chance today in their final home game of the year.

Tied To Majors
WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Seven of the eight teams in the Eastern League are owned or have working agreements with major league clubs.

The lineup is as follows: Allentown - Cardinals, Binghamton - Yankees, Elmira - Dodgers, Reading - Indians, Schenectady - Phillies, Wilkes-Barre - Giants and Williamsport - Pirates.

Albany is the lone independent in the loop.

The Chicago Cubs played their home games of the 1918 World Series in Comiskey Park instead of Wrigley Field because of the larger seating capacity of the American League Park.

Steve Sebo, football coach at the University of Pennsylvania, was a star baseballer at Michigan State. He won the team batting championship twice.

Chi-Sox, Most Improved Club In Majors, Challenge Yanks

NEW YORK (AP)—The time has come to take a good second look at the Chicago White Sox, who move into Yankee Stadium tonight for the first time under their new manager Marty Marion. What we seem to see at this juncture is the most improved club in either league.

Despite a prolonged slump by their best hitter Minnie Minoso, the Sox are clinging tightly to Cleveland's front runners—they're all even with the Indians in the vital "lost" column — and are showing no signs of flagging under the pace. When Minoso begins to hit, as he will, and such pitchers as Virgil Trucks and Billy Pierce strike their true stride, you might see something, indeed.

Parkway Arena Dies From Lack Of TV Finances

NEW YORK (AP)—The Eastern Parkway Arena, spawned by television money, died as a boxing club for lack of television cash last night.

In three years of operation the rollerskating rink in Brooklyn had staged 156 shows. The distinction of winning the last video feature at the club went to Hardy (Bazooka) Smallwood, of Brooklyn, by split decision over Bob Provizi, of Freehold, Pa.

The promoters at the small club didn't have their TV contract renewed by ABC-TV. The network starts telecasting the International Boxing Club's weekly Wednesday night fights June 1.

"You can't operate weekly without television money," said promoter Joe Arata. "It costs over $5,000 to put on a show in New York and you can't draw that kind of money without 'name' fights."

Smallwood, a 22-year-old Army veteran of Korea and Japan, racked up his ninth straight victory in a lively 10-rounder. Provizi, a 23-year-old ex-gob, had his winning streak snapped at 15. It was a close fight with Bazooka's straight punches getting the edge over Bob's left hooks.

At the rival St. Nicholas Arena in Manhattan, which will have the Monday night television time by itself from now on, former lightweight champion Paddy DeMarco, of Brooklyn, rough-housed his way to a split 10-round decision over Libby Manzo, of New York. It was DeMarco's second straight victory over Manzo in a month. DeMarco weighed 140, Manzo 138.

Track records fell all over the place in all three classes. The boys were all in excellent condition for the meet and provided much excitement and rivalry between the six grade schools.

There were five new records set in Class B and three each in Class A and C.

The Class A results produced a new record in the 50 yard dash when Werts of Horace Mann ran it in the time of :06.4 which beat the old record of Noland, Horace Mann, of :06.7 set in 1954.

Purnell, Washington, set a new record in the 25-yard dash with a time of :03.7, beating the time held by Homan of Washington :03.9 set in 1953. Horace Mann set a record for the 440-yard relay with a time of 1:09. There was no previous event on the schedules in past years.

Parrack Named Coach Of Oklahoma Cagers

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Doyle Parrack, who in eight years built Oklahoma City University into a nationally ranking basketball team has been given the job of reviving the fading cage picture at the University of Oklahoma.

The 33-year-old Parrack was selected yesterday to succeed Bruce Drake, who resigned May 5, after compiling only three victories in 21 games with his highest scoring quintet in 17 years as Sooner coach.

Parrack's selection came as no surprise. He was reported as the No. 1 choice after Drake resigned in the face of increasing pressure from alumni who envisioned a basketball program in line with Oklahoma's successful football ascendancy under Bud Wilkinson.

A. E. (Abe) Lemons, 32-year-old freshman coach at Oklahoma City, was named to succeed Parrack.

Meadow Gold Wins Over Moose; Hamm's Lose

A determined Moose Club softball team was turned back by Meadow Gold Monday night in the Industrial League to the tune of a 5-4 score. The Deavers' Devils held the Hamm's Beer aggregation and won 7-6.

The Meadow Gold-Moose game nearly did an about face in the last of the seventh inning when a rally started by the Moose was nipped with two runs being scored.

The Moose took a one-run lead in the second but dropped it in the fourth when the Meadow Gold aggregation scored four runs. Then in the fifth another run was scored. In the seventh the Meadow Gold team picked up one run, the Moose, fighting mad, came back to score the two tallies but were unable to push across the needed one more to tie or two more to win.

Barnes of Meadow Gold starting pitcher had trouble with the control department and was relieved by veteran Hutchinson in the third.

It was a game clean of errors, neither team making a bobbie.

Windisch, the winning hurler for the Deaver's Devils allowed 11 hits and struck out four while Boudin, the loser, gave up 13 hits, walked three and struck out six.

Class C records set were by Taylor of Mark Twain in the pole vault, crossing over the bar at 7 feet, 4 1/2 inches, to beat the old record set in 1953 by Hickman of Horace Mann at 6 feet, 5 1/2 inches. (Incidentally this was higher than either the Class A or Class B winners.) Jim Hausam won the broad jump with 14 feet, 1 inch to smash DeJarnett's record at Broadway made in 1954 of 13 feet, 7 inches. The Broadway 440-yard relay team set the record for that event with a time of 1:02.9.

Other winners of the class: 50 yard dash, Vanderlinden of Mark Twain, time :06.75. Todd of Mark Twain, the 25-yard dash in the time of :04. Mark Twain relay team of Todd, Hausam, Vanderlinden and Ravenscraft won the 200 yard shuttle with a time of :28.7. The shot put went to Todd of Mark Twain, distance of 22 feet, 7 1/2 inches. # Lady Barker Prefers Life In a Trailer

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — "I love to sleep in a tent when it's raining," said the lady carnival Barker. "I feel secure then even if I don't have a dime."
"I couldn't live in a house. I never really had a home—and I don't want one now. You have to make your own way in this world. I've been doing it since I was 6 years old, when I started tap dancing on the back of an elephant."
"I'm a carnie at heart. I may die poor but I'll die a carnie."
There are no present signs of poverty about Evelyn Currie, a blue-eyed strawberry blonde with a bonfire figure and a mind like a bear trap. She is one of the few boss-lady barkers in the picturesque carnival industry, a rough field dominated by some pretty rugged men.
Evelyn, who at 13 became the nation's youngest carnival Barker some 20 years ago, now has 25 male barkers on her staff. She lives in a $10,000 trailer, has a nice collection of diamonds and owns enough mink furs to suffocate a buffalo.

"What I've got depends on how many shows were rained out the year before," she said, "some years I've had to go out and peddle dropcords and screwdrivers to try to build up a bankroll."

Depending on the breaks she gets, Evelyn maintains a staff ranging from 6 to 60 men. Right now she operates 10 concessions—"games of skill and chance"—during summer months at Rockaways' Playland, an amusement park. The rest of the year she and her husband, Harry, a former professional hockey player, spend on the road with her carnival crew.

Her barkers and "roughies"—the workmen who pitch the tents and set up the concessions—call her "mother," although some are nearly twice her age.

Evelyn was born in the circus, a small tent show, as it passed through Decatur, Tenn. Her mother was an aerialist. Her father, a Cherokee Indian, was a circus workman.

"I never went to school in my life. Circus kids do now, but many didn't at that time. I haven't any book education, but the circus and carnival people taught me a lot. They were good about that, particularly the freaks. They are very kind."

"The big thing they taught me was how to count money."

At 13 Evelyn was an acrobatic dancer getting $16 to $18 a week. "I decided nobody could get ahead in life on a salary," she recalled. "So I went into business on my own."

Her first venture, in which she acted as her own Barker, was a small "slum joint"—a carnival term for a rigged game of chance in which suckers could win only the cheapest kind of small merchandise.

"No matter how much a guy won, I still made nine cents on his dime," Evelyn said. "The big prize was a teddy bear. But those teddy bears cost money. The only time I ever lost a teddy bear in those early days was when one fell out of my truck."

She has reformed now, she says, and operates what is known as "hanky panks with plush." These are games in which the patrons (they no longer call them suckers) have a real chance to win a fairly valuable prize.

"It's a better business in the long run to work on a percentage basis, and let the customer get something for his money, instead of wrapping it all up for yourself," said Evelyn. "That's what I keep telling my old carnies friends. You have to run a cleaner operation today, especially in amusement parks."

Evelyn, wearing a mink coat may have nothing under it but a bathing suit, still likes to go out to her booths and bark up some business with her chanting cry: "Hey, hey, it's over here! This is it! Hi! My! Diddy di! Hey you with the kadodie (that)! Come in, Willie, and win your lady a great big doll!"

Evelyn said she lived in a house once for three months in Hollywood, but—

"Never again! It made me nervous. I couldn't move it down the road. Every time I left it I felt like part of me was staying behind. You don't feel that way with a trailer."

"Wherever my trailer rolls, I can be happy. I don't fit into that bridge circle, sewing circle routine."

Her present trailer has a telephone and hot and cold running water. But she is dreaming of getting a new one—"a split-level trailer, with a bedroom and bath on each floor."

Evelyn has only one regret about her gypsy circus and carnival career.

"Once I worked in a wild animal act," she said, "and I really would have liked to become a lion tamer. It would have been a step up in life for me."

Dinah Shore Finds TV Life Is Pleasant

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
(For Wayne Oliver)
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Out here in the canyon country, the people with time to play and a yen to touch vodka-on-the-rocks glasses with celebrities, have one piece of advice for visiting firemen: "Don't bother with the television crowd, they're dull. They never do anything but work all the time. Stick with the movie people. They work hard when they're working, but it's usually a long time between pictures when they can have fun."

"Ha," sniffed Miss Dinah Shore scornfully when she heard these words. "I wouldn't change places with anyone in the world. Look, I can get to work at 10 in the morning, rehearse during the day, do my show and go home to my family and forget the whole thing. I've time for my family, time to be home, time for my friends. Most of all, I have plenty of time for the children."

Although plenty of TV people do work long hard days every day and go home to worry over lines at night, Dinah does a pleasant 15-minute live television show two nights a week — Tuesdays and Thursdays — on NBC.

Mostly she sings songs — and she loves to sing—and wears pretty clothes (which she enjoys wearing. She doesn't have dialogue to learn — "I just say whatever seems right and best at the time"—and she doesn't have to play any role except Dinah Shore, singer and wholesome American girl, both of which are familiar. Occasionally she does get a little fed up with being so nice all the time, she confesses.

Dinah has been happily married for years to one man, George Montgomery, who does extremely well in a quiet sort of way making motion pictures which are—also in a quiet sort of way—very good box office. George also runs a furniture plant on the side and his pieces are very much in demand. They've been having a delightful time building and furnishing their new home in Beverly Hills. They are happy together, and mutually devoted to their two children.

The boys decided to run the popcorn machine at the free shows which will be held at the park in Green Ridge, beginning on Saturday May 28 and continue until September.

The FFA Chapter began dipping sheep on Saturday, May 7, at the Harold Hunton Farm. Dipping sheep for farmers is one of the projects of the Green Ridge Chapter this spring.

Cartwright Students Visit Around Town

Students from the fifth to eighth grades of Cartwright School had a busy day in Sedalia Monday visiting the Democrat-Capital, Malory's Bakery, Archias' greenhouse and the Sedalia waterworks. This was followed by a picnic at Liberty Park at noon.

There were nine students in the group who were Darrel Todd, Dale Conaway, Parky Wagner, Rusty

Missy, 7, and Jodie, 1, their adopted son.

Less Friction with Trop-Artic Motor Oil!

In the experiment below, the slide on the left is coated with ordinary motor oil, while the one on the right is coated with Trop-Artic All-Weather Oil. When two steel blocks are dropped on the two slides at exactly the same time, the one on the right slips down nearly twice as fast as the one on the left. The reason is: less friction with Trop-Artic oil.

FRICION SLOWS YOU DOWN WHEN YOU USE ORDINARY OIL

NEW TROP-ARTIC OIL KEEPS FRICTION LOW

IT'S PERFORMANCE THAT COUNTS!

New Phillips 66 Trop-Artic reduces friction far more effectively than any ordinary oil. By reducing friction, it extends gasoline mileage. And it can reduce wear, even to the extent of doubling the life of an engine. It can cut oil consumption 15% to 45%. It keeps pistons cleaner. New Trop-Artic is the first all-weather type motor oil to meet the highest standard ever established for automobile motor oils, the Mil-0-2104 Supplement 1 Test. Get Trop-Artic from your Phillips 66 Dealer.

Your Eyes and Visual Functions

Of late we are reading in the news statements by industrial leaders that our country faces a shortage of skilled technicians. There are not enough workers with the necessary skills to do the work needed to be done.

There are a number of reasons for this shortage of trained workers, of course, but a frequently overlooked one is the lack of visual skills shown by so many industrial and clerical workers. This fact has been pointed out at various times by industrial psychologists, optometrists and other engaged in the field of eye care. It fails to be heeded properly, however, by many industrial leaders and workers themselves.

It is generally known that the reading ability of the average person is far below what it can and should be. It is not so generally understood that the average worker falls considerably short of the necessary visual skill required for his work.

Both of these two groups are known and referred to as "poor achievers" by optometrists and others engaged in visual care. More often than not the poor achiever can be helped to better visual skills and greater efficiency in his work by the optometrist.

The Missouri Optometric Association sponsors the information contained in this message in the interest of better vision.
